THE KEELY MOTOR AGAIN.

Interest in the Keely Motor is being revived. It will be remembered that nearly twenty years ago J. W. Keely, a Philadelphian, claimed to have discovered a new principle which was to revolutionize the motive power of the world. A machine which he invented to apply the power was examined by capitalists, who organized a stock company to furnish funds to perfect it and get it into use in mills and factories and on railroads. The time was set repeatedly for making a public trial of the machine, but the day was invariably postponed first for one cause and then for another. As hope long deferred maketh the heart sad, the stockholders became discouraged and finally refused to pay assessments, and the Motor dropped out of sight and nearly out of memory.

Now public interest in the Motor is revived by the statement in Mrs. Bloomfield Moore's book, just published in London, that Keely had agreed to place all the facts relating to his Motor in the hands of Professor Dewar of the Royal Institution, who has the reputation of being one of the foremost chemists in England. Professor Dewar admits that Keely agreed as long ago as 1891 to let him investigate the machine and perform experiments unassisted, but as he was unable to find time to visit America nothing has been done. A few days ago, however, he received a letter from Mrs. Moore, written in Philadelphia, informing him that Keely had completed his system and no longer needs sympathy or indorsement, and he will make the matter public as soon as an operation now being performed on his eyes is completed.

Professor Dewar says he has no opinion concerning the Motor. He has been assured that Keely is a truthful man and acting in good faith with the public. Assuming that such is the case, he must be either a deluded enthusiast or the discoverer of a new principle in chemistry.

Probably interest in the Motor will again be awakened, as a machine that will run a quartz mill or a train of cars without fuel or power, other than that what is generated from a few gallons of water, as it has been claimed the Keely Motor will do, will be one of the greatest inventions of this inventive age.

MINING ASSESSMENTS.

The bill introduced by Congressman Bell of Colorado to suspend for one year the clause of the Act of 1872 which requires the expenditure of $100 annually on each mining claim located since the tenth day of May, 1872, until patent has been issued therefor, has passed both Houses of Congress. The Senate amended the bill by excluding corporations and non-residents from its provisions and unless the House concurs in the Senate amendments it will be submitted to a conference committee of the two Houses.

The Act requires as an evidence of good faith that the claimant or claimants of any mining location, in order to secure the benefit of the suspension clause, shall cause to be recorded in the office where the location notice or certificate is filed, on or before December 31, 1893, a notice that he or they in good faith intend to hold and work the claim.

It looks very much as though India is to have a money crisis like that now upon the United States. It is not strange that India should feel the effects of contraction of its circulating medium upon the very heels of the change from a double to a single standard, nor is it strange that the same cure is recommended for India that is suggested for the United States, a loan by the monied aristocracy of Europe. India, like the United States, is expanding; India, unlike the United States, is an old country, but is now being built up from an ancient to a modern civilization, and the ever increasing demand for money for the purposes of development is upon India as they are upon the United States, and like effect should be expected upon both countries.

CONGRESSMAN CURTIS of Kansas has introduced a bill to abolish the office of Collector of Customs at a large number of ports in the United States. It is shown by statements from the treasury department that not a dollar has been collected from duties on imports for years at a large number of ports, where collectors of customs receive good salaries. No vessels clear from or arrive at those ports, and the officials have nothing whatever to do but receipt for their salaries. They were declared ports of entry to make berths for officials in the good old days when every precinct statesman was given a place at the public crib.

WEBSTER FLANAGAN, Customs Collector at the Port of El Paso, Texas, has been indicted by the United States Grand Jury on a charge of conspiracy to defraud the Government by admitting sheep from Mexico free of duty. He is the gentleman who acquired national notoriety by asking a Republican National Convention, "What are we here for but to get office?"

It is reported that a pitched battle has been fought between the government forces and insurgents in the Brazilian State of Rio Grande do Sul, in which one thousand soldiers were killed or wounded.

SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

Notice Given of an Amendment to the Repeal Bill.

THE SITUATION UNSETTLED.

Unfortunate Women Flogged by Whitecaps.

SENATE PROCEEDINGS.

Stewart Gives Notice of an Amendment and Jones Resumes His Argument.

WASHINGTON, October 23.—The legislative day of October 17th continues, no adjournment having taken place since last Tuesday.

Stewart of Nevada gave notice of an amendment he intended to offer to the repeal bill proposing a conference to be held at Washington within nine months, between delegates of the United States, Mexico, Central and South America, Hayti and San Domingo for the adoption of a common silver coin to be legal tender between citizens of the countries represented.

Consideration of the silver repeal bill was then resumed. Jones of Nevada resumed his argument in opposition to the bill, Jones made an elaborate argument. He was advancing, when the Senate took a recess on Saturday evening, that the standard of the country could be neither gold, silver nor a material thing, but that whatever the standard might be it was quantitative, and the value of each unit depended upon the number of units, and there could be but a single standard in the country and that one of quantity.

Last summer the British Government desiring to show its sympathy with the objects of the Administration in this country, issued an order with a view of facilitating the decent of silver. The order was taken by New York to be the announcement of the doom of silver. During this time where was the United States Government, of all nations most interested? The position of the Chief Magistrate of this country on the question was well illustrated by a line from Emerson, "I am the doubter and the doubt." The people of the United States did not propose to be left out of consideration as to what should be the material of their money. The United States is not yet a dependency of Great Britain, and the President is not the Governor General. For the first time in our national history we find ourselves putting into execution through officers elected by the people of the United States plans, which, if not formulated, are heartily approved at the Horse Guards and on Downing street.

At 1:05 p. m. Jones remarked that he desired to yield the floor to Teller, expressing his desire to resume his speech at another time.

THE STEERING COMMITTEE AT SEA.

No Compromise Measure Agreed Upon.

WASHINGTON, October 23.—The opinion prevails that the compromise measure over which Senators were so sanguine last Saturday will never be introduced. The compromisers have been unable to get a sufficient number of pledges to guarantee the passage of the bill, and they have said from the beginning that unless they could secure a majority they would not introduce it. The most authentic statement of the number of pledges make it 39, or four short of a majority. The pledges were all made by Democrats. In this strait the Republicans have been appealed to to help out, but have all the repeal and silver men alike, refused to join the movement.

Some give positive refusals, and some diplomatically say they must see the bill first. The repeal Republicans refuse because of the failure to provide for a bond issue, and because of the provisions for the coinage of seigniorage. The silver men because of the short time the Sherman law is to be continued. There is a belief that the two Republican factions might unite upon a bill, and with the aid of the Populists, and probably a few Democrats, pass it. The Democratic Senatorial managers seem all at sea as to the situation. However, they are still at work among the members and even hope to bring the President to their way of thinking. In the case of absolute failure, the Senate may either adjourn to December or press the bill on the present plan, or attempt cloture. Doubtless Hill will press his cloture resolution, if sure of sufficient assistance.

FLOGGED BY WHITECAPS.

Unfortunate Women Severely Chastised.

OMAHA, Neb., October 23.—A special to the Bee from Stromsburg, Neb., says a large and well-developed sensation broke out last evening in the neighboring town of Osceola. It is reported here that the Women's Christian Temperance Union organized itself into a Whitecap society for the express purpose of chastising several resident young women whose reputation is not above reproach. Last night, by the use of decoy, the Whitecaps succeeded in entrapping the victims, and according to the best information one of the victims was flogged into insensibility, while two others escaped with the clothing torn from their persons and somewhat bruised.

Eleven of the perpetrators were recognized and at once arrested. Some of them are out on bail and the others are still in jail. Their trial is set for to-morrow.

Telegraph Notes.

The Archbishop of Armagh, Primate of all Ireland, died suddenly yesterday.

Owing to a violent storm, there was a small attendance at the World's Fair yesterday.

Don M. Dickinson has been appointed receiver of the Detroit, Bay City & Alpena railroad.

Martin Ford, Jr., the murderer of Henrietta Wilson, was electrocuted yesterday in the New York State Prison.

A fire broke out in Corkery's livery stables at Lamar, Iowa, and destroyed 40 head of horses and $100,000 worth of other property.

Demonetization is having its effect in India. Money is daily becoming scarcer and a gold loan is deemed absolutely necessary to prevent a panic.

The inquest on the remains of the victims of the railroad wreck at Battle Creek, Michigan, has commenced and the investigation will be very searching.

A storm of rain and sleet is raging through the Dakotas, and the Weather Bureau reports another hurricane from the West Indies approaching the Coast of Florida.

A detachment of forty French soldiers was attacked by Arabs in the Sahara Desert. The Frenchmen fought all day and twelve of them were killed and a number wounded.

Proofs have been discovered of forgeries in the defunct Madison Square bank of New York City to the amount of $400,000, and it is thought some of the bank officials will be indicted.

Charley Mitchell, who has arrived at Philadelphia, says if the Coney Island match is off he is willing to go to New Orleans to meet Corbett, but has advice that no boxing can be indulged in in the Crescent City. He will go to London and meet Corbett before the National Sporting Club, but thinks they would have to come down in the size of the purse.

Senator Voorhees ended last Tuesday's session yesterday by moving an adjournment. It is surmised that this action may be for the purpose of putting matters in shape for bringing up the cloture question. When it became apparent to-day that the compromise scheme had failed, the silver men renewed their old tactics of calling for a quorum.

A HUMBOLDT PIONEER.

John C. Fall in Good Circumstances in Arizona.

John C. Fall, a pioneer of Unionville, Humboldt county, is said to have amassed a fortune in Arizona, where he is engaged in the general merchandise business. He was at one time principal owner of the Arizona mine and refused $750,000 for the property. The Arizona was then producing ore which yielded from $80 to $700 per ton in silver. The richest ore was shipped to Swansea, Wales, for reduction and the low grade ore was worked in mills at Unionville. After the demonetization act went into effect silver declined in price. Mr. Fall, who owned a large store, became involved, the mine became the property of Booth & Co., Sacramento, and Mr. Fall, though well advanced in years, left for new fields almost penniless. He had a store at Wilcox, Arizona, which was the base of supplies for troops engaged in the Apache war, and got on his financial legs again. He was a man of remarkable energy and though he met with several reverses in business which reduced him from affluence to poverty he persevered and his old Nevada friends will be gratified to learn that he is in good circumstances in his old age.

Mr. Fall took the first quartz mill to Eastern Nevada in 1861 when freight from California was 12½ cents per pound, and some years later he built a $25,000 store in Unionville. He is the father-in-law of ex-Governor J. H. Kirkhead of Carson.
